

the Green Schoolhouse presents:

Homesteading

The weather is getting colder and that means it's time to prepare for winter and what better way than by cooking up cozy treats, creating some snuggly textiles, preserving food from the garden, and making candles. We'll follow the journey of the season, finding ways to explore and appreciate the chilliest and rainiest of days all the way up to the end of the frost and the first spring planting. This class is open to Kindergarten through 5th grade.
