The approval process is quick and easy. Just take your document to the Activities Director (Mr. Loveless in rm 118) or to Ms Freeman (in the Main Office). Every year Wilson High School has the opportunity to raise money for the Community Transitional School, which deals with children whose parents have been incarcerated, to help provide them with needed materials to give them a proper education, welfare, and improve their life in general. For 20 years now, Wilson Leadership has been fundraising with joint help from the Sheriff's department to give these kids a holiday party that they could never have on their own. Wilson Parents, Winter fundraising had begun this year and we are looking for donations to help us give the Community Transitional School not only the best holiday party ever, but also give them an environment to learn, laugh, and achieve. Our school has put together specific fundraisers to help us raise money and items for the Community Transitional School:

- *Irresistibles: A boy and girl from each class sell beads for $1 each, the class with the most beads sold earns a special prize.
- *Holiday Hollas: Send a special message to a friend or colleague with the aid of a Holiday Holla during class time! Comes with a candy cane!! And who doesn't love candy canes?!
- *Senior Auction: On December 12th, gracious seniors auction up their talents to underclassmen, their talents range from baking cookies to taking the kid out to lunch.
- *Gold Suits: These people, decked out in gold spandex, roam the halls and accept donations from grateful students. Donations can range from a penny to $20!!
- *Clothing Drive: Organized with the elementary schools, clothes are gathered (preferably new or not worn down) to provide much needed winter clothing items to the school.
- *Teacher Competition: A new addition this year, 4 buckets with a teacher's name on it and students put in money to fundraise, the teacher with the most money in their jar has to wear a gorilla suit for an entire day!!
- *Nike Clothes: During Lunch in front of room 118, limited and special nike clothes are being sold for extremely discounted prices, better than anything you will find on Black Friday, perfect for looking for Holiday gifts as the clothes are brand new!!
- *Straight up Donations: In the office, there is a bin in which spare change and a few dollars can be placed in to directly donate to the Community Transitional School. Anything helps!!

Wilson High School Leadership thanks you for taking your time to read this and hopes you can make a contribution to the Community Transitional School and brighten a smile this holiday season!!
