MURALS TO BE DESIGNED FOR WILSON LIBRARY - A FIRST FOR WILSON!

The Wilson Area Arts Council (WAAC) and the Wilson PTA are supporting Wilson High School Librarian Linda Campillo's vision to make the library a more artful and creative space. The Library is the biggest and most used "classroom" on the Wilson Campus, but the space is not inviting as the walls are mostly off-white. Librarian Campillo is spearheading a project, in conjunction with the Wilson Art Department to use Wilson art students to create murals to fill the empty wall-space in the Library. Your money for supplies will go to more than just paint. Wilson art students will be participating in a juried public art competition. Wilson art teacher Susan Parker will be using the Wilson public art process, as part of the project curriculum. Please join with WAAC to raise money for this exciting undertaking and support the goal of filling the walls of the Library with creative expression that mirrors a space of reading, reflection and learning. To make a donation, please click on <http://www.wilsonarts.org/artdrive.htm>.

HOST STUDENT FROM SPAIN THIS SUMMER

Grammata Servicios Lingüísticos is looking for host families for high school students from Spain for this summer. Ideally, host families should have at least one teenager in the home, provide a private bedroom for the student and live within a reasonable walking distance of a Tri-Met transit stop. The staff at Grammata Servicios Linguisticos, which has nearly 30 years experience organizing study abroad courses, conducts interviews with the host families and the visiting students in order to provide the best possible match. Students arrive in Portland on July 1, 2009 and depart from Portland on Tuesday, July 28, 2009. There is a Host family stipend of $275 to help defray costs. As last year's host families will attest, taking in a student provided a fantastic opportunity to learn about Spanish culture. Likewise, the visiting students took full advantage of the chance to immerse themselves in American culture and improve their English, an essential skill for the business world. If you are interested in hosting a student, please complete the attached application and email it to Clifton Chestnut at cliftonchestnut@yahoo.com no later than April 1, 2009. If you know someone who might be interested in hosting a student, feel free to forward this email message to them.

Kids and Media: Getting Unplugged by Ellen Currey-Wilson. Thursday, April 2, 6:15 – 7:30PM. FREE ADMISSION at Stephenson School Gym, 2627 SW Stephenson Street, Portland. TV Turnoff Week is just around the corner! If you've ever threatened to throw out the TV sets and video games, but can't imagine how you would survive without them, this presentation is for you. Learn creative ways to manage TV withdrawal, and in television's place, discover forgotten pleasures. Learn about the benefits of limiting television and video games, including improvements in children's health, social skills, school performance, connection to nature, imagination and ability to focus. Explore ways to increase creativity, build community and help kids feel included without TV and video games. Teach kids to become more media literate and aware of the effects of excessive exposure to advertising, including increased consumerism, stress on the environment, and an inability to make informed political decisions. Learn about marketing policies in other countries, such as Sweden and Norway which do not permit any television advertising directed at children under 12. Ellen Currey-Wilson is the author of The Big Turnoff: Confessions of a TV-Addicted Mom Trying to Raise a TV-Free Kid, published by Algonquin in the United States and by Fusions Books in the UK.
