WILSON BASEBALL FIELD TO BE NAMED AFTER COACH MIKE CLOPTON

We are excited to announce that the events for April 1st to name the Wilson Baseball field after Coach Clopton are coming together! The “Clopton Field” signage is being fabricated and will be installed by a local company on the outfield scoreboard and backside of the press box. The plaque that will be affixed to the snack shack, which will pay further tribute to Coach Clopton, will be ordered next week. The tentative schedule for the dedication and unveiling of the signage is set forth below. The ceremony has been scheduled to take place at this season’s home opener which falls on April 1st.

That will be the first home game after Coach Clopton's 1,000th game as the varsity head coach; more than any other in Oregon high school baseball history. What an achievement!

We are very excited for this special day in Wilson Baseball history, and hope that you’ll be able to join us on April 1st for the ceremonies, and stay for the game! A number of alumni, students, boosters and parents are already on board, and we hope that you’ll be able to be part of this very special occasion as well.

If you would like to send in a donation or have any other feedback, please reply via email (cloptonfield@yahoo.com) as soon as possible. Contributions can be made payable to “Wilson Baseball, “ and mailed to Wilson High School, attention Jeremy Shetler, at 1151 SW Vermont St., Portland, OR 97219. Please make sure to reference “Clopton Field” on the memo line. To the extent funds are raised in excess of the cost of the labor and materials needed for the signage, plaque and other efforts related to the dedication ceremony, they will be deposited into the general Wilson Baseball fund account.

WILSON ACTORS TO OPEN IN PROFESSIONAL WORLD PREMIERE

Wilson Actors to open in the professional world premiere of Ablaze: An a Cappella Musical Thriller! In early 2011 the Wilson theater department commissioned a new work by playwright Matthew Zrebski, and in November 2011 premiered Ablaze: An A Cappella Musical Thriller. Following a sold-out production at Wilson High School Ablaze continued to astound audiences and critics alike at the Fertile Ground Festival in early 2012. In April 2012 it was featured at the State Thespian Festival as one of the top three high school productions for 2011-12, and was performed at the historic Elsinore Theatre in Salem for an audience of 1,100 theater students and professionals. It was received with a standing ovation and an outcry for encore performances and a cast recording. Realizing the popularity and caliber of the production the professional theater company Staged! decided to launch Ablaze onto the professional stage for the first time.

Featuring 23 young professional actors from across the Portland metro area, including Wilson actors Lindsay Spear (junior), Jacob Orr (senior), Austin Mahar (senior), Tristan Comella (sophomore) and Daniel Crumrine (junior). Ablaze is a bold experiment in musical theatre, and an intense and unapologetic look at the lives of adolescents and the issues they must face.

"Uncommonly thrilling...sung and acted with real skill and passion."—Marty Hughley, The Oregonian

PASTRY CHEF: PUFFED PERFECTION

Graduating from Wilson in 1999, Devon Morgan (maiden name Wooldridge-Chillemi) finds herself transplanted to Columbus, Ohio. It has been quite a journey since Wilson. Devon has lived in Riverside, California, then on to Providence, Rhode Island, next Boston, Massachusetts and currently Columbus, Ohio. Devon and her family have lived in Columbus for five years. When she is not running after her two year-old or working, she is usually with a book or her knitting projects. Her proud parents are Steve and Roni Goodstein and her siblings, Arielle & Celeste Wooldridge-Chillemi, Aaron Wooldridge-Goodstein, and Matt & Vicki Goodstein. Devon is a graduate of the Baking and Pastry Bachelors Program at Johnson and Wales, where she developed her skills and pursued her love of all things sweet. Devon worked at the Four Seasons Boston for almost three years and is currently the Pastry Chef at the Sheraton Columbus Hotel at Capitol Square Downtown Columbus, Ohio. She also regularly holds cooking classes throughout the community in Columbus. One of her favorite classes at Wilson was English followed by her typing class. Carolyn Wood was one of her favorite teachers. Asked about words of wisdom for the current Wilson students, Devon says, "sometimes the job we love isn't the best paying, but put in the time and it will pay off. Find your passion and study hard. It will serve you well in all that you do."

Read all about Devon and her love of sweets in an article written by Dara Schwartz for "Traveling on taste buds" online magazine: <http://www.wilsonalumni.com/newsletter/2013/Devon.Morgan99.pdf>. Portland-based Food Front has been a community-owned grocery store since 1972 and now has more than 6,500 owner-members. It's the first step toward getting local food on more grocery store shelves, she says. The co-op supports local fundraisers at its cash registers – including gardens at local schools – and invites its members on field trips throughout the year to farms and ranches that supply the store. Ecotrust honored six Sustainable Food Heroes, including Food Front, Dancing Roots Farm, Grand Central Bakery, Bee Local Honey, Fort George Brewery, and Friends of Family Farmers. Congratulations!
