PTA PARENT EDUCATION NIGHT, APRIL 9

Wilson High Library, 6:30 - 8:00 PM

Wednesday, April 9, 2014

Topic: Parenting to Support Healthy Teens

Speakers: Susan Korte and Megan Kovacs

Susan Korte: Teen years are the toughest transition years for any parent to deal with. Your child goes from totally dependent to completely independent within 7 years, and it’s overwhelming to know whether to trust, to let go, or to hold on—and you feel like your internal balance is totally off without knowing what to do. Please join Susan Korte, a mother of three teen daughters, to learn some core skills to turn your relationship from being a push-pull between you and your teen to a relationship with more positive communication and understanding. Susan holds a Bachelors of Arts in Communications from BSU, is a Certified Professional Coach from iPEC, is ELI-MP Certified, and has a PhD in Motherhood and Teens.

Megan Kovacs: Want some tools to talk to your teens about their relationships? Together we can create a safer, more supportive community at Wilson and in Portland Public Schools. With the passage of the Healthy Teen Relationships Act, health classes are more and more addressing relationship dynamics with youth. Please join Megan Kovacs, Education Coordinator from Raphael House of Portland, to learn the background of HTRA, what’s being taught in schools because of it, and how to reinforce these lessons at home so that we can build a safer and stronger community at Wilson.
