Maia Hoffman for viola

Gillian Bergmann for soprano voice

Maggie Conroy for alto voice

WHS Chamber Ensemble in the strings ensemble category

Congratulations are also in order for Wilson's Wilsingers and Wave choirs who, in tandem with Grant High School choirs and the Metropolitan Youth Symphony, performed in a gala concert at the Arlene Schnitzer Concert Hall in the evening on Sunday, March 8th. Our choirs were superb, and the lovely voices of soprano soloist Gillian Bergmann and mezzo-soprano Lauren Lamont resounded through the hall. A memorable evening for us all!

OUTSTANDING PLAYING BY WILSON SENIOR

Wilson senior, Maia Hoffman has had a busy year, with school and her music. Maia is co-principal of the viola section of the Portland Youth Philharmonic. For three consecutive years she placed first in the OSAA Oregon State Solo Competition for viola. In 2015, she appeared as a soloist with the Oregon

Symphony playing Dvorak's Silent Woods as part of their Young People's Concert. She also performed with the Portland Youth Philharmonic as their Season 91 Concerto Competition winner performing the Viola Concerto by William Walton (1929). James Bash from Northwest Reverb says Maia gave an astonishingly beautiful performance. He adds, "considering that Hoffman is just a senior at Wilson High School, 'astonishingly beautiful' might be an understatement." This year Maia has been auditioning at college music conservatories. Congratulations Maia!

A story about the choices we make, morality and good versus evil, The Rake's Progress has been produced to great acclaim for audiences around the world—Portland Opera is producing it as part of the company's 50th anniversary season. Angela Niederloh, mezzo-soprano, has been acclaimed by the New York Times as, "charismatic mezzo soprano." Angela Niederloh is a frequent Portland Opera guest artist, with roles including Dame Quickly in Falstaff, Dorabella in Così fan tutte, Angelina in Rossini's Cinderella, Guinone in La Calisto, Melibea in The Voyage to Reims and Third Lady in The Magic Flute. SW HOPE STARTS FOOD DRIVE, THROUGH MARCH 29

According to Rick Seifert from the Hillsdale News, February 15th kicks off the eighth annual "SW HOPE: Feed the Hungry" community food drive. The drive involves more than 60 faith and other community partners to collect food and funds in support of Neighborhood House's Emergency Food Box Program. Each year the SW HOPE campaign rallies support to supplement the sharp drop off in donations that occurs after the holidays. The Neighborhood House food pantry in Multnomah Village provides emergency food boxes twice a month to 450-500 families (approximately 1,500 people per month). The number of families seeking emergency food assistance has not declined over the last four years. Because every $1 donation is equivalent to approximately four pounds of food purchased through Oregon Food Bank, cash donations are the most effective way to support the program. Supporters can also make food and cash donations at Neighborhood House, located at 7780 SW Capitol Hwy., or online at www.swhope.org. For more information about the food and fundraising drive and how you can help, contact Neal Nyssen, Neighborhood House Emergency Food Box Program Coordinator, at (503) 246-1663 x5118 or nnyssen@nhweb.org, or go to www.nhpdx.org.
