Revised Wilson Affinity Group Community Dinner, Room 145, 5:30pm

Hey, Wilson Asian Pacific Islander Club, Black Student Union, Students of Color in Action, Unidos Club and Muslim Student Alliance members! On Thursday, April 18, let's bring our families together to meet and build community! This event is also open to students and families who want to show support and fellowship for Wilson cultural affinity clubs—all are welcome. Pizza provided; bring something to share!

Following the Family Gathering, please stay for an event put on by the Oregon Humanities Conversation Project: Listening to Young People, Wilson Library, 7-8:30pm. Open to students, staff and community members.

New Listening to Young People, An Oregon Humanities Conversation Project, Wilson Library, 7:00-8:30pm

What does it look like when adults really listen to young people? Cultural beliefs about young people perpetuate myths that cause harm, especially when combined with laws that control their physical and emotional autonomy and limit their ability to participate in public life. Young people experiencing marginalization for any reason—race, gender, sexuality, ability—also have the added layer of not being taken seriously because of their age. And yet the history of social justice movements in the United States is deeply connected to young people's agency, autonomy, and power. Join facilitator Emily Squires and a co-facilitator from the youth community for a conversation that asks folks to explore their own beliefs about what it means to be young and to reflect on their individual relationship to power as it relates to age.

Open to students, staff and community members. Sponsored by Wilson HS and the Southwest Neighborhoods Inc Equity & Inclusion Committee. Learn more at oregonhumanities.org/programs/conversation-project/catalog/listening-to-young-people/.

PAX US State Department Scholarship Exchange

Share your America with an outstanding high school student on a US State Department Scholarship. These high achieving students speak English and are motivated to learn more about the US by attending high school and living with a host family. PAX students are eager to experience American activities—backyard barbecues, birthday celebrations, and holidays—with their host families. They are covered by comprehensive medical insurance and have their own spending money for incidentals, and school fees. Hosts provide students with a bed, a quiet place to study, a seat at the dining table, a warm and supportive home environment, and encouragement to engage in everyday American life. This is a chance to learn about a student's country and culture. All types of families—single parents, young couples, retirees, and parents with teenagers—are welcome to host. Students arrive for fall classes at your local high school. Families can host them for the school year or for a semester. PAX is a non-profit educational organization and one of a select few US Department of State designated Exchange Visitor Programs chosen to participate in its prestigious US government-sponsored FLEX, & YES, programs. For more information contact PAX Coordinator Mimi Sanders (mimisandersart@hotmail.com, 503-293-6195).
