

Summer Opportunities

Revised May 27, 2020

This is a highly unusual summer for HS students across the country. Many Summer programs, employment opportunities, and camps are canceled. If you're scrambling for an enriching way to spend your time or earn money, you may want to check out these opportunities. As always, please prioritize your health and safety and only pursue those opportunities that you feel comfortable participating in. PPS does not endorse these employers.

Act Locally

Childcare, Household & Lawn/Garden Care Opportunities: With Summer Camps canceled for youth of every age, there is a need for childcare and other household assistance for working parents. Start local by asking your neighbors if they need any assistance.

Be an Entrepreneur! Do you see a need for a product or service in the community? Check out how these Roosevelt students are making a difference.

Volunteer Virtually! VolunteerMatch.org has a wide variety of virtual volunteer opportunities for teens including sewing, knitting, making cards for seniors, creating audiobooks for students, historical research and MORE!

Bit Project - June 29th-August 24th (Remotely)

Connected Careers: Computer Programming, Marketing, Project Management

Bit Project is offering a free 8 week program for high school students to explore the intersection of programming, marketing, and project management. We realized that summer opportunities were being stripped away not only from college undergraduates, but also high school students due to COVID-19. Thus, we wanted to design a program called Bit Heroes that would allow high school students to gain hand-ons experience as Developers, where they can use their technical knowledge to make cutting edge developer tools accessible to the masses. Here is an overview of the program:

- The duration of this program will run from June 29th to August 24th, remotely.
- Meeting and networking with Microsoft developers—who will be the mentors during the program—, undergraduate college students across the nation, and other industry professionals.
- Students will be split into teams with each team consisting of 7 members and 1 project manager to put together a technical marketing campaign to gain professional work experience that'll give students a head start later in their collegiate-level internship searches.

- Each team will then have different Integrated Marketing Campaigns (IMC) that they can choose to work on.

The main goal of the program is to produce a live webinar hosted by the students to demonstrate the product to their target audience. Along the way, they would create technical blog posts and produce a podcast that makes technical concepts more friendly to their desired audience.
