community conversation

A learning, listening and sharing session

Do you struggle to know what to say and do when your child witnesses, hears, or is involved in conflict in class or on the playground?

This is an opportunity to participate in piloting a new format for our community to:

- Connect & Share
- Listen and hear different perspectives
- Learn about restorative practices being used at Vernon
- Hear from a teacher about classroom applications for conflict resolution
- Leave with techniques for fielding questions that come up at home
