

WRITING THE COLLEGE ESSAY

Welcome, Incoming Seniors!

Applying for college or a scholarship in the fall?

Interested in developing the skills you need to write a college essay that stands out from the crowd?

Get a head start and sign up for Writing the College Essay, a week-long summer workshop.

At the end of the week, you will have revised drafts of two college essays. These sections will be kept smaller (12-16) in order to provide more individual guidance.

- Read and analyze successful college and scholarship essays
- Perfect your personal style
- Write sentences that stick out
- Draft, revise, edit, and share a college essay that will get you noticed by schools

ABOUT THE INSTRUCTORS

All Oregon Writing Project college workshop instructors are full-time high school educators. They have completed an intensive four-week summer institute on the teaching of writing, plus three follow-up college classes that lead to the Certificate in the Teaching of Writing. These courses focus on learning effective teaching strategies, prompts, and pacing.

Past Participants have said...

"I was extremely thankful to have a solid start to my essay going into the college application season. I applied to ten schools and was accepted into seven initially."

"Thanks so much for teaching my son! I loved the essays he wrote and was really surprised by the fishing one. I will absolutely recommend the program."

WORKSHOP INFORMATION

2019 DATES

Session 1: June 17-21, 9 a.m.-noon

Session 2: June 24-28, 9 a.m.-noon

COST $175, $100 for free/reduced lunch (verified by school)

LOCATION Lincoln High School, 1600 Salmon St., Portland, OR 97205

See reverse for registration form

OREGON WRITING PROJECT

at Lewis & Clark College

SUMMER PROGRAMS IN PORTLAND