6. District Overview of Board Goals and Priorities for 2021-22 School Year and Budget Updates - 7:20 PM
 - a. Where We’re Going - led by the Community-informed Vision, made up of four areas: Core Values; Graduate Portrait; Educator Essentials; System Shifts
 - b. Accountability - in Budget Principles and Board Goals
 - c. Specific Goals - 3rd grade reading, 5th grade math, 8th grade graduate portrait, Post-Secondary College & Career Readiness.
 - d. RESJ Lens and Theory of Action
 - e. System Shifts, Strategies, and the Strategic Plan
 - i. Selected 5 system shifts last year, each with multiple strategies on achieving the system shifts
 - f. Q&A on Board Goals

- i. Budgetary Implications - Some of the Bond money is designated for capacity building, MS construction costs, not much impact on GF budget.
- ii. Governor's Budget - first week of December. We're waiting for more information for forecasting; hoping to have that for next meeting.

1. Meeting in December?

7. Establish initial CBRC priorities - 7:35 PM

- a. Beyond the Board goals, what do we as a committee want to prioritize this year as we examine and report on the Superintendent's proposed budget?
 - i. Judah McAuley: One thing I'd like to highlight the most to frame our discussions...a very large portion of the budget isn't negotiable. Large numbers of teachers, principals, operating costs, etc are just required. So we, in my opinion, should separate out the parts that aren't set in stone and have a laser focus on the choices there and the process behind them and the outcomes they obtain
 - ii. Jackson Weinberg: I want our future discussions to really focus in on the RESJ lens, which I know is already mentioned, but also more broadly to how PPS supports historically underserved communities. I also hope to see performance measures included in the budget
 - iii. Irina Phillips: I agree with Judah. Let's leave the basic that is non-negotiable... & concentrate our attention on choices & dilemmas.
 - iv. Roger Kirchner: Historically, it has been the aspiration for CBRC to start in the fall to receive briefings on elements of the budget e.g. SPED, ESL, IT, Counseling, Libraries, etc. Once the Superintendent proposes a budget, CBRC turns its review to that document in preparation to present recommendations and its review of the LOL.
 - v. Performance measures included with CBRC recommendations

8. Q & A - 7:50 PM

- a. Nicole will step in as a point person in supporting the group until Cynthia's successor is named.

9. Adjourn - 8:00 PM
