

The Parent Policy Council needs you!

What is the Parent Policy Council?

- The Policy Council is a group of parents from each of our nine centers who work together to guide our Head Start program.

What does the Policy Council do?

- We meet one evening a month, at our Sacajwea site, to help make important decisions about programming, budgeting, and hiring decisions.
- Food and childcare are always provided by Head Start staff. Interpreters are available if needed.
- We also represent the PPS Head Start program at local and state meetings, trainings, and more.

Why should you be part of the Policy Council?

The Council is a place to:

- Help improve our program.
- Learn more about how to help your child.
- Meet more people who share your concerns.
- Gain confidence through leadership training.
- Have fun while doing important work!
