

Cliffhanger Story by Tessa Willis – Grade 2

There once was a ridiculously silly man. He didn't have any friends because he was too ridiculously silly. That made him really sad and lonely because he didn't have anyone to hang out with him.

One day, someone told him that another ridiculously silly man lived on the other side of the volcano, and he was happy. He went to find the volcano so he could find the other ridiculously silly man. The other ridiculously silly man was also ridiculously silly, so this ridiculously silly man thought that they could be friends because they wouldn't annoy each other because they already go through being around a ridiculously silly person because they are ridiculously silly themselves.

So off he goes to the volcano. The ridiculously silly man jumped into a volcano. A squirrel then punched the ridiculously silly man. The squirrel was mad, because it was the afternoon. When he fell into the volcano, a bunch of flying dinosaurs came out of the volcano. The flying dinosaurs lived in the volcano. The ridiculously silly man fell onto one of the flying dinosaurs, and he flew up, up, and up. Then he fell back into the volcano and fell onto another flying dinosaur.

Then he fell onto the dog that went ridiculously silly when the ridiculously silly man fell on the dog. The dog kicked the ridiculously silly man and the ridiculously silly man almost flew right back into the volcano.

Then an asteroid fell from the sky and hit the ridiculously silly man's dog. The dog was so hurt that he chased the cat into the house. A bird grabbed the ridiculously silly man, and the bird took him up to the bird nest but then he fell out of the bird nest. Then he blew up a 1000 helium balloons and he floated up to the sky. Then a gust of wind came, and he flew into a tree. And the tree broke the balloons.

That gust of wind was so big, that it pushed the ridiculously silly man all the way to the ocean. Then a shark came after him and he was riding the shark. And when he got to the surface, a pack of wolves chased after him, and tried to eat him. He ran up to the mound of the volcano, and then he ran into another pack of wolves, and then the other pack of wolves started fighting the other pack of wolves, and the ridiculously silly man had a chance to escape.

The ridiculously silly man was just trying to find the other ridiculously silly man. The other ridiculously silly man could hear him at the volcano and ran there excited to see someone ridiculously silly like him. Each one of the ridiculously silly men was on one of the sides of the volcano. They were both climbing around the volcano so they could find each other. They were so close and could even hear each other yelling silly stuff. And then they were almost together, and could see each other and were reaching for each other and were so excited and then another gust of wind blew so hard the first ridiculously silly man started falling towards the volcano lava!
